Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

DETAILED ACTION

The Amendment filed on 23 July 2007 has been acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 15-18 and 22-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Yaron (US 7,025,442).

Yaron discloses the following claimed features:

Regarding claim 15, a method of expelling ink, comprising: filling an ink chamber (20) with ink; irradiating (130) a laser beam (column 8, lines 62-67) directly onto the ink (30) contained in the ink chamber (20) to generate a pressurized wave in the ink and vibrating a surface of the ink using the pressurized wave; and expelling an ink droplet (Figure 15C, element 184) from the surface of the ink (30) by the vibration of the surface of the ink.

Regarding claim 16, further comprising: converging the laser beam (502) using a condenser lens (516, 518) before irradiating the laser beam onto the ink.

Regarding claim 17, wherein the laser beam (502) has a sufficiently high energy and is irradiated onto the ink for a sufficiently short period of time to prevent boiling the ink.

Regarding claim 18, wherein the ink chamber (20) is a plurality of ink chambers (even though only one chamber is shown) and irradiating (130) the laser beam (column 8, lines 62-67) onto the ink comprises: selectively irradiating (130) the laser beam onto ink contained in one or more of the plurality of ink chambers (Figure 10).

Regarding claim 22, wherein irradiating the laser beam directly onto the ink includes irradiating the laser beam through a passageway plate (132) that forms a wall of the ink chamber.

Regarding claim 23, wherein: the passageway plate is silicon, is in contact with the ink, and is disposed between ink in the ink chamber (20) and the laser beam, irradiating the laser beam directly onto the ink includes irradiating the laser beam through the silicon passageway plate (132), and the silicon passageway plate is transparent to the laser beam (Figure 6B, column 12, line 62 to column 13, line 30).

Regarding claim 24, wherein the laser beam has a wavelength in the infrared region (column 13, lines 8-36).

Regarding claim 25, wherein the ink (30) in the ink chamber (20) transforms the laser beam into the pressurized wave (column 24, lines 27-37).

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-14, 19-21, 26 and 27 are allowed over prior arts as discussed in Applicant's Remarks filed on 23 July 2007.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 15-18 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Contact Information

5. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to An H. Do whose telephone number is 571-272-2143. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Friday (Flexible).

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Stephen D. Meier can be reached on 571-272-2149. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
